

Junior Marketing Designer

Location

Tel Aviv

Reports to

The Junior Marketing Designer will report to the Director of Design

Job Overview

ZenGo is looking for a creative junior marketing designer to join our growing team. The responsibilities of a junior marketing designer include creating designs according to specifications, participating in creative marketing discussions, and improving designs based on feedback.

To be successful as a junior marketing designer, you should have original ideas and have a keen eye for detail. Ultimately, a successful junior marketing designer should be able to create imaginative designs, be open to learning more and create impressive designs that promote the company's vision.

Responsibilities

- Understanding project requirements and ideas
- Creating marketing designs including banner ads and App Store screenshots
- Pitching creative concepts
- Collaborating with the team to launch projects
- Using feedback from other team members to improve

Qualifications

- BA in Graphic design or similar.
- Perfect written and spoken English
- Experience with design software and graphics editing software, such as Illustrator, Figma, and Photoshop
- Ability to work well within a team and take constructive feedback
- Time management skills
- A talent for creativity and problem-solving

How to Apply

Send your resume and portfolio to careers@zengo.com